Light Up Circular Infinity Mirror (EY11032)

Find out how Sarah Beck, a Resource Provision Teacher from Claypool Primary School and a teacher from Brookfield Primary School have used the TTS Light Up Infinity Mirror with children in their settings.

“It has been great for the children to discuss their facial expressions and feelings”

Our Foundation class (Reception) have had this resource in their classroom. The children have loved looking into the mirror and it has been great for the children to discuss their facial expressions and feelings during their ‘All about me’ topic. Some children have responded to the light-up element of the infinity mirror and like looking at the lights. It has been used for calming children if they have been in crisis, as they enjoy the lights and seeing how far they can see.

“The TTS Light Up Infinity Mirror has been used by children from EYFS through to Year 6”

The children love the Light Up Infinity Mirror and again this has been used by children from EYFS through to Year 6. All of our pupils love looking into it and seeing their reflection and the effect from the lights. Again, this has been used for a range of purposes, including:

- Exploratory play - exploring the world around them
- Recognising and explaining pattern
- Comparative language - in front, behind
- Shape and reflection, mirror image
- Developing strategies for self-regulation when experiencing a range of emotions
